MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Adjust rack to middle position (middle and top positions for 4 servings) and preheat oven to 400 degrees. Wash and dry produce. Dice tomato.

2.

Toss potatoes in one oven-ready tray with a drizzle of oil, half the BBQ Seasoning, and a small pinch of salt; arrange in a single layer (for 4 servings, divide between two trays, using a drizzle of oil and a small pinch of salt for each tray). Place pulled pork in a medium bowl. Using two forks (or your hands), break up into bite-size pieces. Stir in BBQ sauce and remaining BBQ Seasoning. Top potatoes with BBQ pork.

3.

Place tray with BBQ pork and potatoes on one side of a baking sheet; bake on middle rack (be sure your oven has preheated!), until pork is warmed through and potatoes begin to brown, 15–20 minutes. (For 4 servings, bake two trays side by side on middle rack.) Meanwhile, arrange biscuits in remaining tray (for 4, divide biscuits between remaining two trays).

4.

Once BBQ pork and potatoes have baked 15–20 minutes, remove sheet from oven and carefully add tray with biscuits to opposite side of sheet. (For 4 servings, leave pork and potatoes baking; place trays with biscuits side by side on a second baking sheet and bake on top rack.) Return to middle rack and bake until biscuits are golden brown and pork mixture is bubbling, 8–11 minutes. In the last 2–3 minutes of baking, remove sheet from oven and carefully top pork with cheese.

5.

Drizzle BBQ pulled pork loaded potatoes with sour cream, then top with tomato and crispy fried onions. Divide between plates or serve directly from trays with biscuits on the side.
