CHEF'S TIP

In Step 5, you'll baste the steak with hot butter infused with garlic and thyme. This helps cook the meat from both sides while building layers of flavor on the steak's exterior.

MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Adjust rack to top position and preheat oven to 450 degrees. Wash and dry produce. Slice potatoes into ¼-inch-thick rounds. Place in a medium pot (large pot for 4 servings) with enough salted water to cover by 2 inches. Bring to a boil; cook until just tender when pierced with a fork, 7–9 minutes. Drain; let cool slightly.

2.

While potatoes cook, finely chop parsley, including tender stems. Peel and lightly crush garlic, keeping cloves intact. Halve tomatoes lengthwise. In a small bowl, combine parsley and garlic herb butter; set aside. (If garlic herb butter is too firm, let it sit at room temperature for 10 minutes and try to mix again.) In a separate small bowl, combine Monterey Jack and cheddar. In a medium bowl, combine sour cream and cream sauce base. Add water 1 TBSP at a time until mixture reaches a drizzling consistency. Season with a big pinch of salt and pepper.

3.

Arrange half the drained potatoes in a single, slightly overlapping layer in an 8-by-8-inch baking dish or small ovenproof pan (use a 9-by-13-inch baking dish or large ovenproof pan for 4 servings). (TIP: Use tongs if potatoes are still hot.) Evenly layer half the sour cream mixture over potatoes. Sprinkle with half the cheese mixture. Repeat with remaining drained potatoes, remaining sour cream mixture, and remaining cheese mixture. Sprinkle top evenly with panko. Bake on top rack until edges are brown and bubbling and cheese melts, 12–15 minutes. Set aside.

4.

While potato gratin bakes, pat steak dry with paper towels; season all over with salt and pepper. Heat a drizzle of oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. Add steak; cook, flipping occasionally, 5–6 minutes. (Don't worry about flipping too many times! This ensures even cooking.)

5.

Add 2 TBSP plain butter (4 TBSP for 4 servings), crushed garlic, and thyme sprigs to pan with steak. Carefully tilt pan so butter, garlic, and thyme pool on one side. Using a large spoon, spoon hot butter over steak; cook to desired doneness, 3–5 minutes more, flipping halfway through. (If butter begins to smoke excessively or starts to burn, reduce heat to medium.) Transfer steak to a cutting board; tent with foil to keep warm. Let rest for at least 8 minutes (don't skip this—it's essential for a juicy steak!).

6.

In a large bowl, combine spinach, tomatoes, dressing, 1 tsp olive oil (2 tsp for 4 servings), a pinch of salt, and pepper. Once steak has rested at least 8 minutes, thinly slice against the grain. Divide steak, potato gratin, and salad between plates. Dollop steak with garlic parsley butter.

Beef is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 145°.*
