CHEF'S TIP

In Step 3, you'll toast your sesame seeds. How will you know they're done? Follow your nose! Toasting sesame seeds brings out their naturally nutty flavor and aroma, while amping up the crunch factor.

MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Bring a large pot of salted water to a boil. Wash and dry produce. Peel and finely chop ginger.

2.

Once water is boiling, add noodles to pot. Cook, stirring occasionally, until al dente, 5–7 minutes. Reserve ½ cup noodle cooking water (1 cup for 4 servings), then drain and set aside.

3.

Heat a large dry pan over medium-high heat. Add sesame seeds; toast, stirring frequently, until fragrant and just beginning to brown, 2–3 minutes. Remove from heat and transfer to a small bowl.

4.

Heat half the sesame oil (all for 4 servings) in pan used for sesame seeds over medium-high heat. Add beef and ginger; season with salt and pepper. Cook, breaking up meat into pieces, until browned and cooked through, 4–5 minutes.

5.

To pan with beef mixture, stir in drained noodles, stock concentrate, sweet Thai heat sauce, and ¼ cup reserved noodle cooking water (½ cup for 4 servings). Cook, stirring, until water has evaporated, 2–3 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in half the sesame seeds. Add splashes of remaining reserved noodle cooking water as needed until everything is coated in sauce.

6.

Divide lo mein between plates and sprinkle with remaining sesame seeds.

Ground Meat is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 160°.*
