How do you know if your pasta water is salty enough? Taste it! (We're serious.) Because your cooking water is the only chance you have to season the pasta itself, it's super important to treat it like you would any other ingredient. The water should taste about as salty as the ocean!

MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Adjust rack to top position and preheat oven to 425 degrees. Bring a large pot of salted water to a boil. Wash and dry produce. Grate Parmesan over a small bowl (skip this step if pre-shredded). Peel and finely chop or grate garlic. Pick parsley leaves from stems; finely chop leaves.

2.

Rinse shrimp under cold water, then pat dry with paper towels. Season all over with half the garlic powder, salt, and pepper. Heat 1 TBSP butter (2 TBSP for 4 servings) in a large pan over high heat. Add shrimp to hot pan and cook, stirring occasionally, until opaque and cooked through, 4–5 minutes. Turn off heat; transfer shrimp to a medium bowl and set aside.

3.

Once water is boiling, add pasta to pot. Cook, stirring occasionally, until al dente, 9–11 minutes. Reserve ¾ cup pasta cooking water (1½ cups for 4 servings), then drain.

4.

Lightly oil a baking sheet. Sprinkle Parmesan onto sheet in two even piles (four piles for 4 servings), each about the size of a burger bun. Bake on top rack until cheese is melted and crispy at the edges, 3–5 minutes. Let cool on sheet for 1–2 minutes, then transfer Parmesan frico to a paper-towel-lined plate to cool.

5.

Melt 1 TBSP butter (2 TBSP for 4 servings) in pan used for shrimp over high heat. Add garlic; cook, stirring, until fragrant, 30 seconds. Stir in ½ cup reserved pasta cooking water (1 cup for 4), stock concentrate, cream cheese, remaining garlic powder, and a big pinch of salt. Cook 1–2 minutes more, then add drained pasta and toss to combine. (If needed, stir in more reserved cooking water a splash at a time until pasta is coated in a creamy sauce.) Stir in half the shrimp and 1 TBSP chopped parsley (2 TBSP for 4).

6.

Divide pasta between bowls. Top with remaining shrimp and remaining chopped parsley. Garnish with Parmesan frico.

*Shellfish is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 145°.
