Our favorite method for coating veggies in oil and spices? A big ol' bowl! In Step 3 you can save yourself messy hands while making sure everything is well coated by using a bowl and a wooden spoon instead of tossing the broccoli and zucchini directly on the baking sheet.

MORE IS MORE

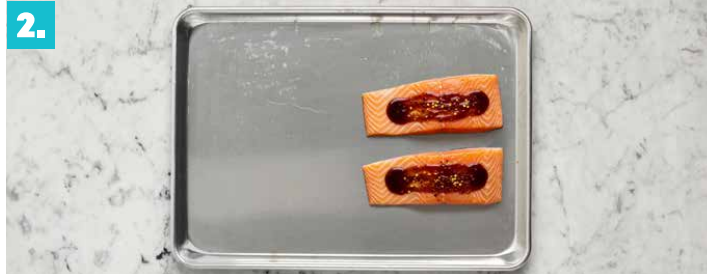

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Adjust rack to top position (top and middle positions for 4 servings) and preheat oven to 425 degrees. Cut broccoli into bite-size pieces. Halve zucchini lengthwise; slice crosswise into half-moons.

2.

Pat salmon dry with paper towels. Arrange, skin sides down, on one third of a baking sheet; brush tops with half the sweet soy glaze (you'll use the rest in Step 6) and season with a pinch of chili flakes from your pantry. (For 4 servings, arrange salmon across entire sheet.)

3.

On opposite side of sheet from salmon, toss broccoli, zucchini, and sesame seeds with a drizzle of oil, salt, and pepper. Roast on top rack for 8 minutes. (For 4 servings, toss veggies on a second baking sheet; roast veggies on top rack and salmon on middle rack.)

4.

Meanwhile, in a small bowl, combine jam, Sriracha, 2 TBSP mayonnaise, 1 tsp water, and a pinch of salt (4 TBSP mayonnaise and 2 tsp water for 4 servings).

5.

Once salmon and veggies have roasted 8 minutes, remove sheet from oven; carefully brush salmon with remaining sweet soy glaze. Return to oven and roast until glaze is tacky, salmon is cooked through, and veggies are tender, 5-8 minutes more.

6.

Divide salmon and veggies between plates. Drizzle salmon with sweet chili mayo.

*Fish is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 145°.
