There's more to grilling cheese than meets the eye. As it cooks, it doesn't melt! It browns and develops a delightfully salty, crunchy bite after just a few minutes of searing per side. It's the perfect tasty addition to pasta, pizza, or sandwiches.

MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Bring a large pot of salted water to a boil. Wash and dry produce. Halve grilling cheese lengthwise, then slice crosswise into ¼-inch pieces. Trim and thinly slice scallions, separating whites from greens. Drain corn.

2.

Once water is boiling, add pasta to pot. Cook, stirring occasionally, until al dente, 9–11 minutes. Reserve ½ cup pasta cooking water (1 cup for 4 servings), then drain.

3.

While pasta cooks, heat a drizzle of oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. Add grilling cheese; cook, undisturbed, until browned, 1–2 minutes per side. Add scallion whites, garlic powder, and 2 TBSP butter (4 TBSP for 4 servings); cook, stirring occasionally, until fragrant, 1 minute.

4.

Add corn, gochujang, soy sauce, and ¼ cup reserved pasta cooking water (½ cup for 4 servings) to pan with grilling cheese; stir to combine. Reduce heat to low; add drained pasta and toss to coat. If needed, add more splashes of reserved pasta cooking water until everything is coated in sauce.

5.

Divide pasta between shallow bowls or plates and top with scallion greens.
