You may notice that we almost always ask you to reserve a bit of noodle cooking water. Wondering what makes this cloudy water so darn special? It's salty and starchy, and those magical starches help make your sauce silky smooth. Basically, it makes good noodles great, and we'll never leave you with a bowlful of just good.

MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Fill a large pot halfway with salted water and bring to a boil. (Don't overfill the pot; the starch in the noodles will create bubbles when added.) Wash and dry produce. Peel and finely chop ginger. Peel and finely chop garlic. Trim and thinly slice scallions, separating whites from greens. Quarter lime.

2.

Once water is boiling, add noodles to pot. Cook, stirring occasionally, until al dente, 5–7 minutes. Reserve ½ cup noodle cooking water (1 cup for 4 servings), then drain and set aside.

3.

While noodles cook, heat a drizzle of oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. Add ginger, garlic, and scallion whites; cook, stirring, until fragrant, 30 seconds. Add pork and season with salt and pepper. Cook, breaking up meat into pieces, until pork is browned and cooked through, 4–6 minutes.

↔ Swap in beef for pork. (If there's excess grease in your pan, carefully pour it out.)

4.

Reduce heat under pan with pork mixture to medium low and add coleslaw mix. Cook, stirring, until cabbage just begins to soften, 1 minute. Add sweet soy glaze, stock concentrate, and ¼ cup reserved noodle cooking water (½ cup for 4 servings); stir to combine. Add drained noodles and a squeeze of lime juice (big squeeze of lime juice for 4); toss to coat. (If needed, stir in another splash or two of reserved noodle cooking water until noodles are coated in a glossy sauce.) Taste and season with salt.

5.

Divide gingery pork noodles between bowls. Garnish with scallion greens. Serve with remaining lime wedges on the side.

*Ground Meat is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 160°.
