MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Adjust rack to middle position (middle and bottom positions for 4 servings) and preheat oven to 425 degrees. Wash and dry produce. Pinch ends off green beans if necessary. Place 1 TBSP butter (2 TBSP for 4) in a small microwave-safe bowl; microwave until melted, 20–30 seconds. Add panko, half the sesame seeds, and a pinch of salt; stir to combine.

2.

Pat chicken dry with paper towels; season all over with salt and pepper. Place in oven-ready tray (for 4 servings, divide between two trays). Spread 1 tsp garlic-ginger scallion paste over each chicken cutlet. Mound with panko mixture (no need to coat undersides). Place tray on one side of a baking sheet. Transfer sheet to oven (be sure your oven has preheated!); bake on middle rack for 5 minutes.

3.

Meanwhile, toss green beans in remaining oven-ready tray with a drizzle of oil, half the heat sauce, remaining sesame seeds, remaining scallion paste, salt, and pepper. Once chicken has baked 5 minutes, remove sheet from oven and place tray with green beans on empty side. (For 4 servings, leave chicken roasting. Divide green beans between two trays; roast on bottom rack.)

4.

Return to middle rack and bake until chicken is cooked through and green beans are browned and tender, 12–15 minutes more. Meanwhile, massage rice package to break up grains; snip to partially open and add 1 TBSP butter (for 4 servings, use 1 TBSP butter per package). Microwave for 90 seconds. Drizzle chicken with remaining heat sauce.

5.

Divide rice, chicken, and green beans between plates, or serve family style directly from trays.
