MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Fill a large pot halfway with salted water and bring to a boil. (Don't overfill the pot; the starch in the noodles will create bubbles when added.) Wash and dry produce. Peel and finely chop garlic. Zest and quarter lime. Trim and halve cucumber lengthwise; slice crosswise into 1/4-inch-thick half-moons. Trim and peel carrot; grate on the largest holes of a box grater. Thinly slice chili.

2.

Once water is boiling, add noodles to pot. Cook, stirring occasionally, until al dente, 5–7 minutes. Drain and rinse under cold running water. Set aside.

3.

While noodles cook, pat chicken dry with paper towels. Season with salt and pepper. Heat a drizzle of oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. Add chicken and cook until browned and cooked through, 5–6 minutes per side. Turn off heat and transfer to a cutting board.

4.

In a large bowl, whisk together garlic, soy sauce, ponzu, peanut butter, 2 TBSP water, 1 tsp sugar, a big squeeze of lime juice, a pinch of lime zest, and a pinch of salt and pepper (4 TBSP water and 2 tsp sugar for 4 servings). (The dressing should be very smooth. Whisk very well, making sure there are no peanut butter clumps!) Once dressing is well combined, add cucumber, carrot, and drained noodles; toss to combine. Taste and season with salt and pepper.

5.

Thinly slice chicken crosswise. Divide peanut noodle salad between bowls. Top with chicken and as much chili as you like. Serve with remaining lime wedges on the side.

Poultry is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 165°.*
