Want to know our secret to a perfectly dressed salad? Before tossing it all together in Step 5, make sure your lettuce is extra dry. This way, the leaves will hold on to the dressing, instead of the dressing sliding right off into the bowl.

MORE IS MORE

If you upgraded your meal to double your protein or veggies and/or ordered 6 servings, you may need to cook in batches or larger cooking vessels. Remember: Larger batches may = longer cook times, so follow the visual and temperature cues. (For 6-person meals, combine the 2- and 4-serving ingredient amounts as needed.) For CustomPlate nutritional information, please refer to EveryPlate.com.

1.

Wash and dry produce. Finely dice tomato. Halve, peel, and finely chop shallot. Zest and quarter lime. Trim and discard root end from lettuce; chop leaves into bite-size pieces.

2.

In a medium bowl, combine tomato, shallot, juice from half the lime, and a pinch of lime zest. Season with salt and pepper. In a small bowl, combine dressing, sour cream, remaining lime zest, ¼ tsp chipotle powder (½ tsp for 4 servings), and juice from remaining lime. (Use less chipotle powder or leave it out if you don't like things spicy; save any remaining chipotle powder for another use.)

3.

Open package of chicken and drain off any excess liquid. Heat a drizzle of oil in a large pan over medium-high heat. Add chicken and season with salt and pepper. Cook, stirring occasionally, until browned and cooked through, 4–6 minutes.

4.

Drain corn; pat dry with paper towels. Add corn to pan used for chicken; cook, undisturbed, until starting to brown, 2–3 minutes. Stir in a drizzle of oil and a pinch of salt; partially cover and cook, stirring occasionally, until warmed through and slightly charred, 2–3 minutes more. (It's natural for corn to pop a bit while cooking.)

5.

In a large bowl, toss lettuce with pico de gallo (draining first), charred corn, half the chicken, and as much chipotle ranch as you like. Divide salad between bowls; top with cheese and remaining chicken.

*Poultry is fully cooked when internal temperature reaches 165°.
